About your instructor: I'm Jennifer Dunkle, a Licensed Professional Counselor in Colorado, and a Certified Gottman Therapist. I got my undergraduate degree at James Madison University. I have been in private practice since 2013, and between 2003 and 2019 I worked at a psychiatric hospital. One of my specialty areas is financial therapy, and I am a member of the Financial Therapy Association.

I have worked with hundreds of couples using the Gottman Method, and am excited to introduce you to this world-renowned, research-based way of doing therapy with couples. John and Julie Gottman and colleagues have done extensive research with thousands of couples over the past fifty years, and research is continuing to this day.
