

Student View for Assignment Feedback

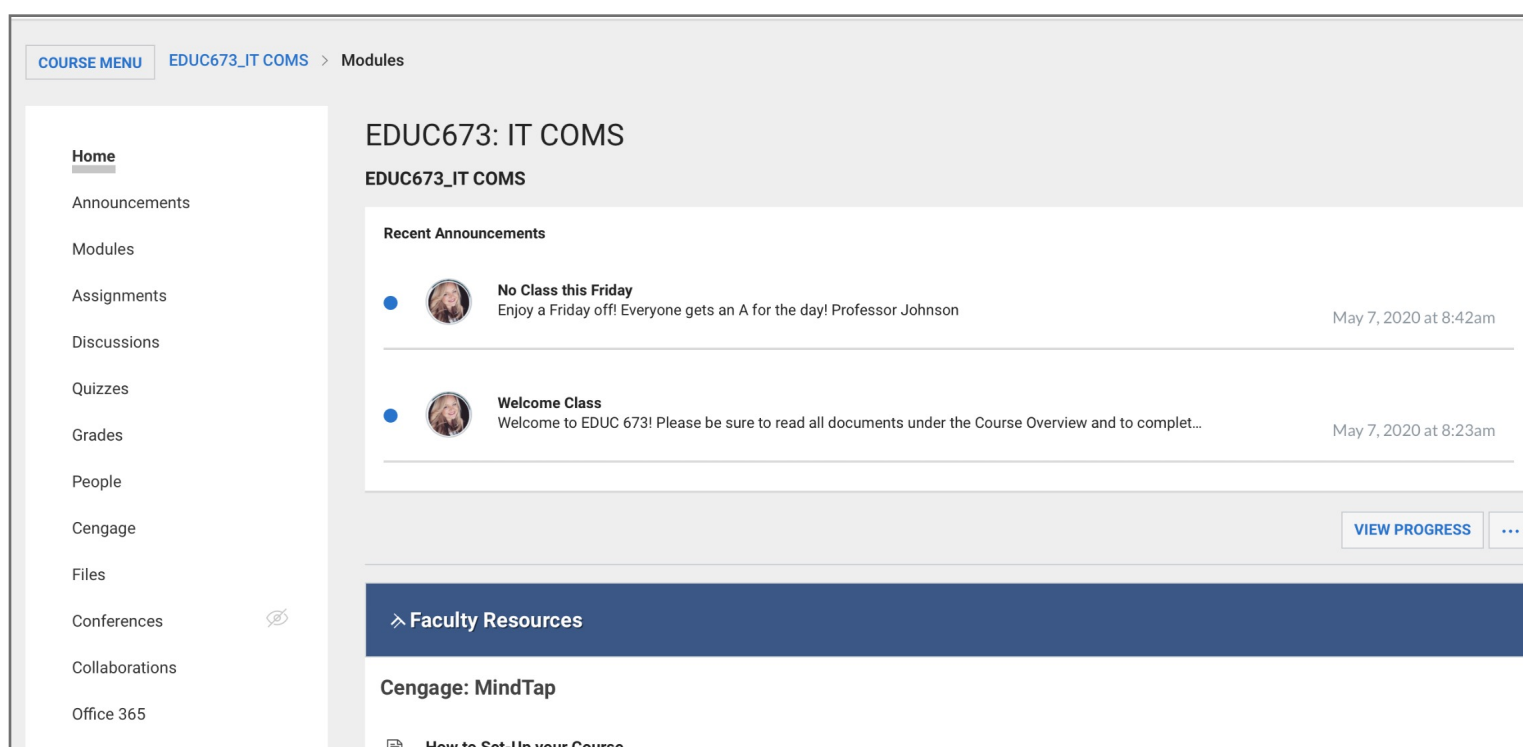

Introduction

In Canvas, there are multiple ways to view assignment feedback. In this document, we will show the preferred method to easily view all feedback for graded assignments.

Instructions

Step 1: To find your feedback in Canvas, click on Grades from the course menu on the left.

Step 2: Here you see all the Assignments in your course

The screenshot shows the 'Grades for Melvin Brown' page. It includes a 'PRINT GRADES' button, a 'SHOW ALL DETAILS' button, and a 'COURSE ASSIGNMENTS ARE NOT WEIGHTED' warning. A checkbox is checked for 'Calculate based only on graded assignments'. The main table lists assignments with columns for Name, Due, Status, Score, and Out of.

Name	Due	Status	Score	Out of
In-Classroom Quiz	Apr 29 by 11:59pm		84	0

Overall really good work on this! In the second section, you should have gone more into greater detail on the subject matter. Let me know if you have any questions about your grade.

PREVIEW OF HOW TO USE ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (AI) TO YOUR MARKETING ADVANTAGE.DOCX

How to Use Artificial Intelligence (AI) to Your Marketing Advantage

Using Artificial Intelligence (AI) was once believed to be a marketing technology that was not meant for small businesses, but rather, for the large ones. However, now we see small businesses applying algorithms that are publicly available or those from the shelf machine learning services that can be used to generate valuable insights and develop prediction models that feed off the behaviours of customers.

What's the Concept behind Artificial Intelligence?

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has over the years been used as a general term for describing different types of technology that can replicate human intelligence. Though it seems like it was just introduced, it has become one of the hottest topics in quite a number of business sectors around the world.

AI techniques instruct computers to analyse data in an appropriate way so they can produce the required information, trigger an event, or supply analysis based on what they find.

So, how are Businesses Leveraging on AI in Marketing?

Nowadays, marketers are actively leveraging on the awesomeness of AI to gather important insights on customers, improve workflows, and automate tasks. We see just about 51% of marketers currently using AI, with about 27% that are expected to have incorporated it by 2019, according to reports from Salesforce.

With the increase of consumer-generated data, AI computing techniques like natural language processing (NLP), deep learning, and machine learning will witness an increased importance in making data-driven decisions. But still, here are some ways businesses are leveraging AI for marketing:

- The Use of Search Engines

As at 2005, if you had searched for an e-Commerce store online to buy a product, there's a high possibility you won't find exactly what you are looking for. Well, unless you know its specific name. But today, search engines have much smarter, with an improved capacity that helps you find information on Google, as well as Amazon, Target.com, Netflix, and lots more.

The coming years will see an increase in consumer expectancy when it comes to implementing suggested corrections, autosuggest, advanced search options, and many more advancements.

Step 8: Finally, you can respond to the overall feedback left on the assignment by typing a message in the “Add a Comment” box

The screenshot shows the 'Submission Details' page for a 'Final Exam Paper Assignment'. The submission is by Melvin Brown, dated May 25 at 8:51am. The document is 'How to Use Artificial Intelligence (AI) to Your Marketing Advantage.docx' (15.7 KB). A feedback comment from Nathan Russell, dated May 25 at 9:01am, states: 'Overall really good work on this! In the second section, you should have gone more into greater detail on the subject matter. Let me know if you have any questions about your grade.' Below the feedback is a red-bordered box labeled 'Add a Comment:' containing a text input field, 'Media Comment' and 'Attach File' links, and a 'SAVE' button. A large red arrow points from the center of the page towards the 'Add a Comment' box.

Tips for Success!

Going through the Grades link is the best way to see all of your assignments and view any feedback, but you can also see assignment feedback from the Recent Feedback column on the Dashboard, or from any Canvas Grade notification email or text.
